the elegance of elizabeth anne jones poems can be found in such lines as one feels beauty and knows when one is near a rose but wind moves petals and tugs at leaves in a trembling tree it moves me or in her poem about old goats their small hooves tapping spritely songs of clippy clapping there are many voices in her poetry like the village women of punjab who sit kerchiefs of faded scraps tied across their lower faces to ward off evil germs and finally in her poem the dark she writes a lute sings softly where i live a table some fruit a chair she invites us into her poems please come inside her poems have been published in various periodicals books of poetry and orally on audio cd s they have also won many prizes she became a serious poet in 1978 while she was working on her masters degree in poetry at the university of hawaii where she studied under such well known poets as james wright who won a pulitzer prize for his collected works and john logan she felt privileged to have had a course in research with leon edel whose biography of henry james won him a pulitzer prize he told us that if we ever published a book to mention him because it would give the book more clout then there was elizabeth mccutcheon a gifted teacher whose courses in early 17th century poetry were inspired and inspiring we never got done reading her handouts it was a wonderful climate for poets and as a gardener anne would say that the potting soil was of the highest order robinson jeffers 1887 1962 is not only the greatest poet that california and indeed the american west has produced but a major poet of the twentieth century who occupies a prominent place in the tradition of american prophetic poetry jeffers consciously set himself apart from the poetry of his generation by physical isolation at his home in carmel by his unusual poetic form and by his stance as an anti modernist yet his work represents a profound and profoundly original artistic response to problems that shaped modernist poetry and that still perplex poets today how to reconcile scientific and artistic discourses and modes of vision how to connect present day experience to myths perceived as lying at the origins of human culture how to renew the poetic language and how or whether to present art s claim to moral spiritual or epistemological seriousness within representations of modern phenomena for jeffers as for no other important modern american poet there has never been a collected poems not even a truly representative selected poems the current selected poetry first published in 1938 contains no work from the last three volumes published during jeffers lifetime or from his posthumous volume now for the first time all of jeffers completed poems both published and unpublished are presented in a single comprehensive and textually authoritative edition the first three volumes of this four volume work will present chronologically all of jeffers published work from 1920 to 1963 the present volume consists of poems published between 1920 and 1928 and includes some of his greatest and best known poems tamar roan stallion the women at point sur and cawdor as well as a recently discovered long poem home there is also an editorial note and a general introduction anything goes is a compilation of my feelings and observations of the world around me by the use of poems plays and essays it expresses my personal views of what is what should be and what is wished for to come about mainstream american poetry of the 1950s has long been dismissed as deliberately indifferent to its cultural circumstances in this penetrating study edward brunner breaks the placid surface of the hollow decade to reveal a poetry sharply responsive to issues of its time cold war poetry considers the fifties poem as part of a dual cultural project as proof of the competency of the newly professionalized poet and as a user friendly way of initiating a newly educated upwardly mobile postwar audience into high culture brunner revisits richard wilbur randall jarrell and other acknowledged leaders of the period as well as neglected writers such as Rosalie Moore, V. R. Lang, Katherine Hoskins, Melvin B. Tolson, and Hyam Plutzik. He also examines the one-sided authority of the male-dominated book review process, the ostracizing of female and minority poets, poetic fads such as the ubiquitous sestina, and the power of the classroom anthology to establish criteria for reading. Attributing the gradual change in poetic style during the 1950s to the slow collapse of the authority of the state, Brunner shows how a secretive, anxious poetics developed in the shadow of a disabled government. He recontextualizes the much-maligned domestic verse of the 1950s, reading its shift toward the private sphere and the recurrent image of the child as a reflection of the powerlessness of the post-nuclear citizen. Through a close examination of poetry written about the bomb, he delineates how poets registered their growing sense of cosmic disorder in coded language, resorting to subterfuge to continue their critique in the face of sanctions levied against those who questioned government policies. Brilliantly decoding the politics embedded in the poetry of an ostensibly apolitical time, Cold War poetry provides a powerful rereading of a pivotal decade.

Widely considered the greatest and most influential of the English Romantic poets, William Wordsworth (1770–1850) remains today among the most admired and studied of all English writers. He is best remembered for the poems he wrote between 1798 and 1806, the period most fully represented in this selection of 39 of his most highly regarded works. Among them are poems from the revolutionary lyrical ballads of 1798, including the well-known lines composed a few miles above Tintern Abbey; the famous Lucy series of 1799; the political and social commentaries of 1802; the moving "I Wandered Lonely as a Cloud"; and the great ode "Intimations of Immortality from Recollections of Early Childhood." All reprinted from an authoritative edition, this republication of a selection of 39 poems reprinted from the complete poetical works of William Wordsworth, Student's Cambridge Edition, published by the Houghton Mifflin Company, Boston; The Riverside Press, Cambridge, 1904. Detailed contents, alphabetical lists of titles and first lines. 80pp, 5 3/8 x 8 1/2, 2 paperbound.

A dazzling new anthology of 180 contemporary poems selected and introduced by America's poet laureate, Billy Collins. Inspired by Billy Collins's poem "A Day Program" with the Library of Congress Poetry 180, this is the perfect anthology for readers who appreciate engaging, thoughtful poems that are an immediate pleasure. A 180-degree turn implies a turning back; in this case, to poetry. At first glance, open the anthology to any page and discover a new poem to cherish or savor. All the poems, one at a time, to feel the full measure of contemporary poetry's vibrance and abundance. With poems by Catherine Bowman, Lucille Clifton, Billy Collins, Dana Gioia, Edward Hirsch, Galway Kinnell, Kenneth Koch, Philip Levine, Thomas Lux, William Matthews, Frances Mayes, Paul Muldoon, Naomi Shihab Nye, Sharon Olds, Katha Pollitt, Mary Jo Salter, Charles Simic, David Wojahn, Paul Zimmer, and many more.

This book offers a comprehensive and original reading of Australian poetry from the colonial period to the present through the dual lenses of romanticism and negativity. Paul Kane argues that the absence of romanticism functions as a crucial presence in the poetry of all the major Australian poets this absence or negativity is both thematic and structural and Kane's scrupulous analyses uncover important relations between romanticism and negativity chapters on nine individual poets explore and substantiate the theoretical claims informed by the work of contemporary critics of romanticism and by various philosophers of negativity these chapters can serve as a series of self-contained readings of Australian poets for the use of students scholars and informed general readers Australian poetry is unique in its sustained argument and theoretical sophistication
